Mobile Computing – Benefits, Risks, and Pitfalls (or Shiny Objects with Hidden Dangers)

Thursday 24 November 2005

10.00 to 16.30 at Chartered Accountants' Hall, Moorgate Place, London, EC2

A one-day joint event organised by the BCS Information Risk Management & Audit Specialist Group and the
IT Faculty of the Institute of Chartered Accountants in England & Wales

This event will look at these small (and not so small) objects of desire which are taking your company information to new and exciting places – so exciting, in fact that you might prefer if it were not going there at all.

If you are at the cutting edge, you may not be able to live without them – and we will look at what that means from a risk and security perspective.

Speakers include Alex Brewer, Ian Ridell, Peter Wood, and Rosemary Mulley.
